SINGAPORE CORPORATE ACCESS (CORPPASS)
Factsheet

A. What is CorpPass?

- Singapore Corporate Access (CorpPass) is a corporate digital identity for businesses and other entities (e.g. non-profit organisations and associations) to transact online with Government agencies.
- More than 130 digital services managed by about 50 Government agencies are using CorpPass as a login mechanism.
- From Q3 2018, CorpPass will be the only login method for online corporate transactions with the Government, replacing existing login methods, such as SingPass, EASY* and other agency-issued login IDs.

B. Who is CorpPass for?

Local entities with a Unique Entity Number (UEN) and foreign entities will be required to use CorpPass. Local Entities without a UEN will continue to use SingPass as a login method. The table below provides more details.

C. How does CorpPass benefit business users?

- Enhanced Data Protection
  There has been feedback from the business community that SingPass should only be used for personal transactions, and not corporate transactions, due to privacy concerns. For instance, employees who go on leave tend to share their personal SingPass IDs and passwords with colleagues to help carry out business transactions like filing corporate tax, or applying for permits and licences. Having separate login IDs for corporate and personal matters will therefore better protect information of both businesses and employees.

- Better Control for Businesses
  With CorpPass, business owners or executives enjoy better internal visibility and control, as they can assign administrators to manage employees’ access to different Government digital services.

- Increased Convenience
  CorpPass serves as a single platform to manage authorization across Government digital services, and allows businesses a simpler process to deactivate accounts when employees leave.
